One day Cultural and Heritage Tour under EBSB.

To commemorate Azadi ka Amrit Mahotsav, the Department of Environmental Science, EBSB Club and cultural committee of GDC Pampore conducted one day cultural and heritage tour on 30th of November, 2021. Tour included a visit to following places;

- 1 Shikargah: a dense forest, an erstwhile hunting ground of Maharaja of J&K and now important Hangul conservation site
2. Megalithic site at Tral
- 3 Cave dwelling dating to 2500 BC
- 4 Awantipora temple ruins dating back to 855 to 883 AD in district Pulwama.

Shikargah is situated at a distance of about 3 Km from Tral town and around 40 Km from Srinagar. It is located in the middle of a vast stretch of dense woods which was traditionally a favourite hunting place for the Royals. Maharaja Hari Singh (1925-1947) used to visit the place for wild life hunting. However, at present, Shikargah is an important Hangul Conservation and Breeding Centre and an attractive tourist spot. Megalithic site at Tral is a cluster of scattered unique ceremonial megaliths with the biggest referred to as Sha mar Pal. Guf kral, which according to some historians is a place where the first men reaching the valley on early Neolithic period settled. Currently there are 20-25 houses of potters, who continue their traditional profession of pottery making since Neolithic period. A total of 35 Neolithic caves have been discovered in the area. The caves of Guf kral are one of the oldest in Kashmir and some estimates trace their origin to 2000-3000 BC. Even the name of the area Guf (cave) Kral (Potter) comes from these caves (potters' caves). The caves have an enormous archaeological value.

The tour was concluded at Avanti Shovra Temple ruins in Awantipora, Pulwama. The complex hosted two temples, one each for Shiva and Vishnu. The temples were built by King Avanti Varman of the Utpala dynasty in the 9th century A.D. The site is maintained by Archaeological Survey of India. Locals call the temples Pandav Lari, which means "House of Pandavas." The tour was coordinated by Dr Irfan Khursheed Shah HOD EVS.

One-day webinar on 'Swami Vivekananda—an inspiration for the youth of 21st Century'

Under the aegis of IQAC, the department of education conducted a one-day webinar on 'Swami Vivekananda – an inspiration for the youth of 21st century' to celebrate the 'National Youth Day' on 15th January, 2021. The day is celebrated to commemorate the birth anniversary of renowned Indian educationist and philosopher – Swami Vivekananda. The resource person for the webinar was Prof Shah Lateef–HOD, Department of Education. More than 50 students, and faculty of the college attended the webinar.

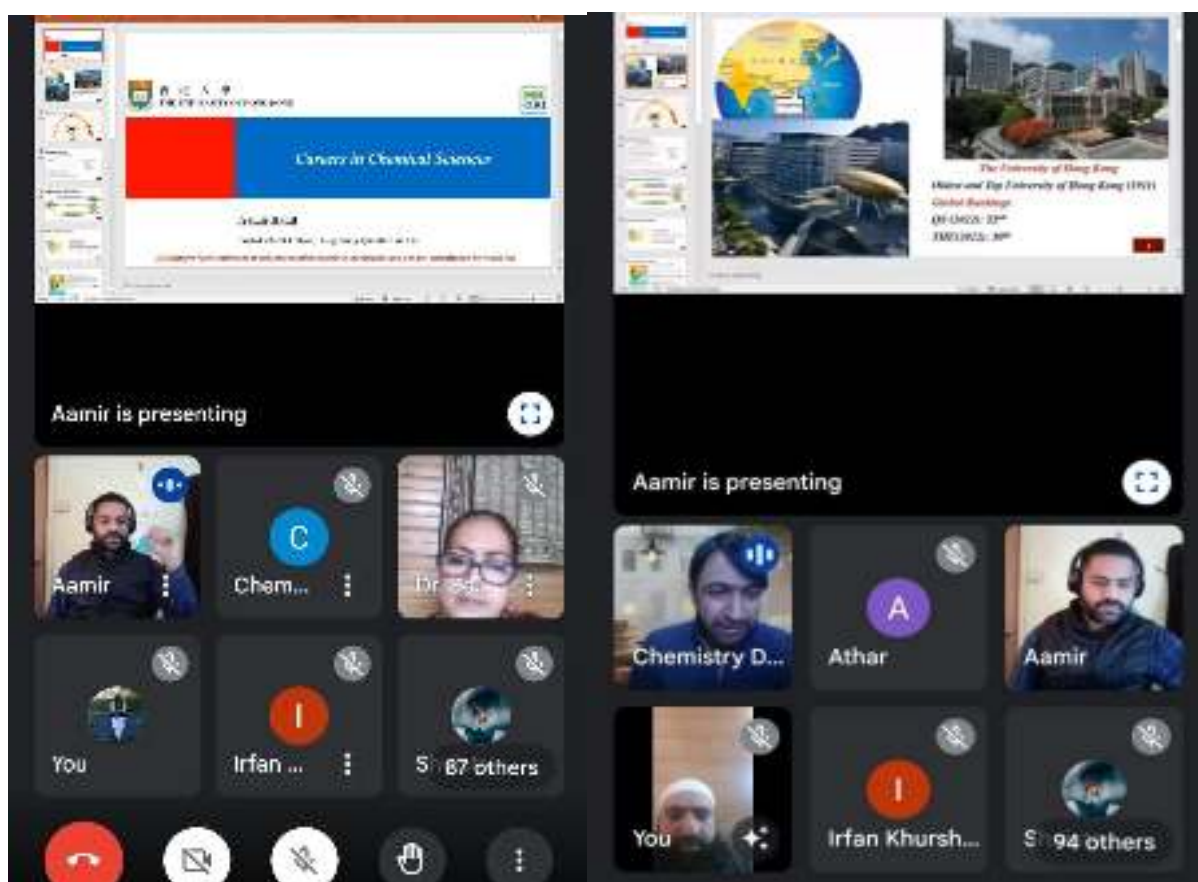

The event started with a welcome address by the patron of the webinar – Dr Seema Naz, Principal. In her address, she outlined the contours of the webinar – the relevance and need of the philosophical ideals of Swami Vivekananda. She drew attention to his philosophical ideal of education as an instrument of humanising that is of immense importance in the challenge to counter the dehumanising tendency of modernity.

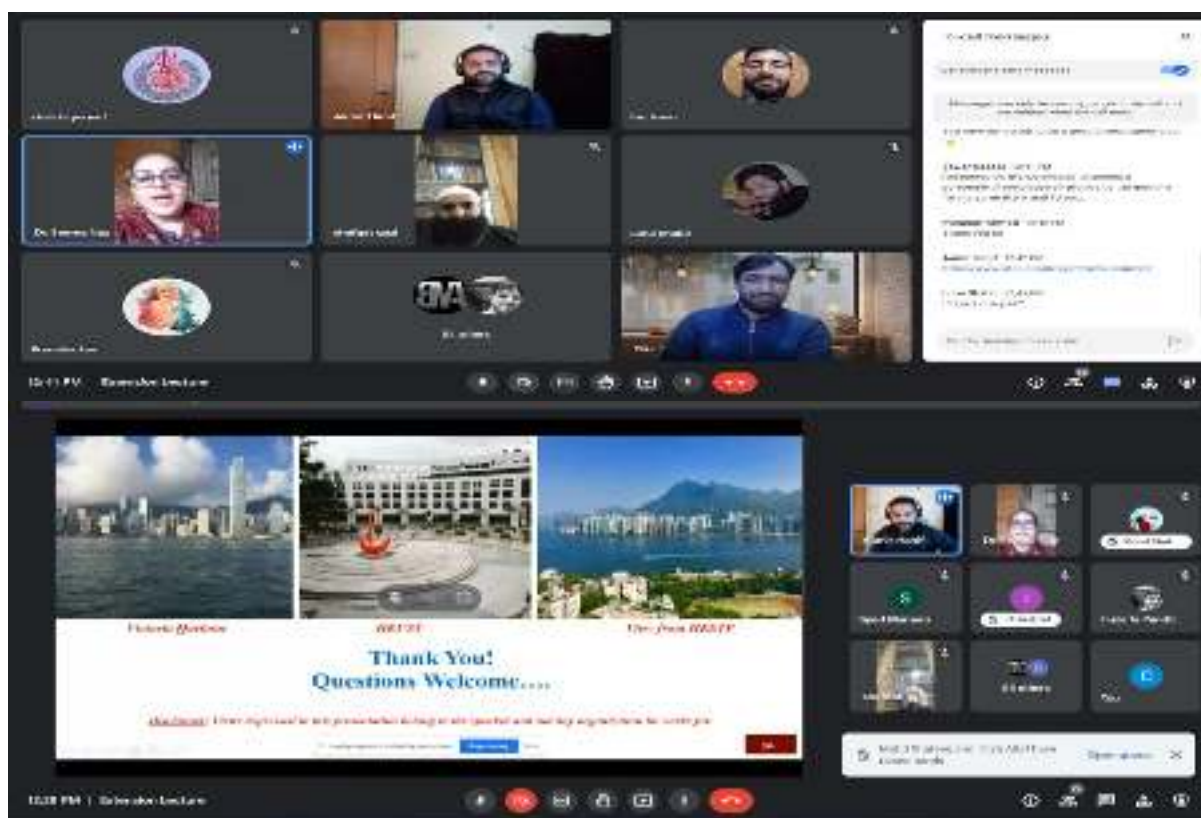

This was followed by an extension lecture on the theme by the resource person. Prof Lateef started by stressing on the relevance of Swami Vivekananda's philosophy, with special reference to its insistence on self-introspection to build character. He proceeded then to examine Vivekananda's blending of eastern metaphysics with western analytical rigour, and outlined the major milestones of his career including the legendary lecture at World Religious Meet held in 1893. The lecture also deliberated on Vivekananda's insistence on the greatness of man, and manifestation of God in man as a prelude to his untiring belief in universalism and inclusivity. The lecture concluded by emphasising the relevance of this paradigm of inclusivity as a cure to a world riddled by divisiveness. A question-and-answer session followed in which the audience presented its questions, and comments on the lecture. The webinar concluded with a formal vote of thanks delivered by Dr Shabir Hussain Lone.

Extension lecture on 'Career Opportunities in Chemical Sciences'

The session was moderated by Dr. Shabir Hussain Lone, HOD Department of Chemistry. The event commenced with a formal welcome address by the Principal, Dr. Seema Naz who outlined the need for such lectures. She noted that in the current world, old orders and hierarchies have been upturned and a pressing need exists for preparing students at the earliest for the challenges and requirement of the job sector. In his detailed lecture, Dr. Aamir first outlined the need for clarity and conviction in the choice of a career, especially as the judgement of the student tends to be clouded by the myriad suggestions and demands made by families and peers. He, then, proceeded systematically to outline the options and careers available to students' at all three levels – graduate, masters and research level, the demands, remuneration, profile and number each increase at every stage.

At the graduate level, students can work as research assistants to gain useful experience of the field, and bolster their CVs as they aim for good institutes like IITs and IISCs. Students can apply for various scholarships like Turkish Bursary Scholarships to obtain fully funded masters. Dr Amir reminded the students that often world class institutes in the middle-east like Kind Fahad University are often not on their radar even as they offer top of class infrastructure, and highest scholarships. The lecture proceeded to offer students guidance on careers like Instrument Application Scholarship, Scientist and Quality Control Officer after Masters and PhD. He also shared the links to various online platforms and communities like JK Scientists on Facebook that offer aspiring researchers and science students personalised mentorship. A detailed question and answer session concluded the lecture.

Pulwama, renowned academician addressed the students in light of the theme of the day. Dr Muzamil Ahmed was the resource person for the second technical session titled: 'Neurodegenerative diseases with special focus on Stroke'. The resource person started with an introduction to the brain and its functions including its constitution and energy requirements. Further, the lecture explored the phenomenon of stroke, various types of strokes, conditions that precipitate it, symptoms of stroke and the possibilities of intervention. The lecture focused specifically on risk factors which are quite prominent and prevalent in Kashmir like smoking and substance abuse. The lecture provided a detailed inventory of markers of a stroke – the warning signs to generate awareness about the phenomenon and provide immediate medical care to the affected person. A detailed section on the need for research intervention into stroke was also included in the lecture to motivate students to consider it as a career choice. Professor Mohd Ashraf Shah helmed the third technical session on 'Science for the benefit of Humanity'. The lecture focuses on the interventions by science made for advancement and improvement of mankind including medical treatments. He highlighted recent advances like introduction of nano- fertilisers for an eco-friendly green revolution to make the region self-sufficient in food production. Particular focus was lent on the need to be curious in students, and the encouragement of curiosity by teachers. He extended an open invitation to the students to visit NIT Srinagar and familiarise themselves with the latest progress of technology. The vote of thanks for first session was delivered by Prof Hilal Bakshi – HOD Physics who expressed his gratitude to resource persons for sharing their expertise, and the audience for listening patiently to the presenters. Post Lunch a poster presentation session was held in which students presented well researched and detailed posters on various topics like Tornado formation and Cancer Prevention. The posters were evaluated by a team of experts comprising of Prof. Hilal Ahmad Bakhshi, Prof. G. N. Joo and Dr. Kausar. Nailah Nisar of 2nd Semester, Roll No: 433 who delivered the presentation on "The Chemistry of Different Colours of Blood" got first position. Qurat Mehraj of 2nd Semester, Roll No: 486 who delivered a talk on "Biology of Cancer" bagged 3rd position. Another Student Humaira Jan, student of 2nd semester, Roll No 491 who presented a talk on "Endangered and Extinct Animal Species bagged third position in this competition. Certificates were distributed among all the students who participated in the poster competition. However the 1st three position holders were awarded both participation certificate as well as cash prize. The programme ended with a vote of thanks presented by Prof, Shah Lateef, and Coordinator IQAC.

Three-day celebrations on eve of International Women's Day

On the eve of the International Women's Day on 8th March, the college held a 3-day festival from 8th to 10th March on the theme 'Breaking the Bias' under the aegis of 'Azaadi ka Mahaotsav'. The festival was organized by Women's Development Cell in corroboration with School of Languages, Department of Music and Department of Physical Education at the virtual lab and the multipurpose hall of the college.

The first day of the festival titled – 'Tete a Tete' involved a series of conversations with eminent Kashmiri women from various fields. Professor Neerja Matoo – noted academic, author and translator of repute was the chief guest on the occasion. Other dignitaries included Narjees Nawab, Deputy Legal lawyer, Syed Sleet Shah - Deputy Superintendent Police, Headquarters, Azra Mufti - State Resource Coordinator, IIM Jammu, and Sehar Nazir – Legal Researcher at High Court of Jammu Kashmir and Ladakh, Acid Attack Survivor and activist. The event was well attended by all faculty, and more than 120 girl students.

In her inaugural address, the principal - Dr Naz extended a warm welcome to the invitees and hoped that their standing as women of eminence would inspire the students especially girl students to give wing to their imagination, and dream of soaring beyond limitations. Prof Naz reserved a special welcome to Prof Matoo, her former teacher, and recounted her stellar contributions to the literary community. She highlighted the need for empowering the women and the need to counter patriarchal biases and misogyny - efforts which have suffered a great setback due to the pandemic which doubly marginalised women by making them vulnerable to abuse and poverty. The address highlighted the need for promoting equality and equity at the grassroots level so that a harmonious society can be evolved. The celebrations were kicked off on a festive note by a musical skit by students of the college based on the life of Habba Khatoon – the renowned poetess of Pampore whose verses still resound in the collective memory of Kashmir. Dramatizing her sufferings at the hands of her husband and in-laws, the skit highlighted how Habba transcended these obstacles, and created a poetry of such pathos and grief out of her personal misery. The series of conversations were inaugurated next by Narjees Nawab who dwelled on the skit presented by students, and drew out the relevance of it by pointing out the perpetuity of patriarchy and pervasive hetero-patriarchy that prioritises marriage for women. Drawing from her own experience as a member of erstwhile State Women's Commission, she highlighted the need for financial independence of women. She ruminated particularly on the tolerance of abuse of women, and the role of financial dependence in perpetuating this pattern and acceptance of abuse. Next, Syed Sleet Shah spoke to the students and started by focusing on the need to counter and challenge patriarchal stereotypes. She highlighted the micro-strategies that can be adopted by women to create incremental changes in society that would go a long way towards empowering women. She spoke of her own experience in training with seven hundred men as she opted for the non-conventional field of police services which involved a rigorous training regime that tested both mental and physical strength. Only a strong and unwavering belief in herself aided her in completing this punishing regimen, which proves in retrospect that women can break any glass ceilings of biases and stereotypes. Next, Azra Mufti spoke to the students on the need of educating not just women, but also men in understanding the various actors complicit in perpetuating patriarchy. She spoke on the need to cherish and evolve counter-patriarchal solidarities with both genders to challenge the transmission of patriarchy especially through women. By drawing from her personal experience, she highlighted the need to evolve mental strength and the capacity to dream to achieve. One way to do it, she pointed out, was to follow the maxim "Choose your battles wisely". She concluded with pointing out that "The Future belongs to those who believe in the beauty of their dreams." Next Sehar Nazir recounted her story as an Acid attack survivor, which she insisted, was not to draw sympathy but seek inspiration to rise above challenges the least of which involved 26 surgeries and loss of sight in one eye. She spoke evocatively on the way she fought off despair and doom in the aftermath of the attack, and the role of love in overcoming the catastrophe to stand back on her feet. She insisted on cultivating hope, perseverance, empathy, strength and determination which helped her complete her studies in time, and embark on a career of research and activism. Her address concluded with the message "Giving up is not an option." Next was the special address by Prof Neerja Matoo, who dwelt upon the talks by previous speakers. She expressed her admiration at the skill and courage of the previous speakers and complimented it. Returning to the skit on Habba Khatoon, she pointed out the fact that Habba Khatoon is still feted today, and the others in her life are minor characters, she exposed the biases of patriarchy. In her unabashed expression, she shattered the expectation of enforced silence, and is, therefore, a great role model for women. She also drew upon the example of Lala Ded, who presents another paradigm of courage by women. Her address insisted on women developing the capacity to think and inquire, rather than blind subservience to empower themselves. She concluded her speech with an exhortation to celebrate and cherish Kashmiri womanhood. The session concluded with a vote of thanks delivered by Prof Alam Ara – HoD Sociology and Co-ordinator WDC Cell.

On 9th March, the Physical Education Department held an Inter-class badminton tournament for the girl students. The tournament commenced with an inaugural address by the Principal – Prof Dr Seema Naz. Her address focused on the maxim, "A Healthy mind resides in a healthy body". The college therefore places great stress on organising such events regularly for students. Over the tournament, 18 singles matches and 8 double matches were held. 175 girl students from various semesters of the college participated in these matches and put a stellar show for the audience. The doubles tournament was won by Tehmeena Jan & Insha Hassan of 2nd semester, while Insha Farooq & Amina Maqbool of 3rd semester emerged as the runners up. In the singles tournament, Irtiqqa Nazir of 4th Semester emerged as the winner, while Khushboo Farooq of 3rd semester was the runner up.

On the third day of the three-day festival to celebrate 'International Women's Day', the college organized a poetry recitation and a musical tribute to Raj Begum. The events held in the virtual lab were organized jointly by School of Languages and the Department of Music. The sessions were moderated by Dr Pervez Ahmed, Head, and Department of Urdu. All sessions were well attended by all faculty and Students. The day started with an inaugural address by the Principal – Prof. Dr. Seema Naz. In her address, she dwelt upon the role of humanities and music in structuring a more equitable system that can strike at the roots of entrenched patriarchy. She reminded the audience that the celebrations are not a token acknowledgement of a day, but rather a pledge towards an inclusive and perpetual quest towards creating a kinder and more equal world. The college is committed to this world view, and therefore endeavours to provide students especially girls with multiple platforms to showcase their talent. Next followed a rendition of a soulful naat by Majid who paid liege to the last prophet of Islam, Prophet Mohamad (PBUH) to set the ambience for the day. The rendition was followed by poetry recitation where students read a wide range of poetry texts in multiple languages by about women. In their powerful recitations ranging from their own works, to poets like Maya Angelou, Parveen Shakir and our own Nighat Sahiba, the students celebrated the spirit of defiance, protest and resilience that characterises women. Iconic poems like Angelou's 'Still I rise', Kaifi Azmi's Aurat and Parveen Shakir's Woh tau Khushboo hai inspired the audience to think deeply about the feminist politics. More than twelve students participated in the session, and provided a glimpse into the talents overflowing in students. Dr Samiullah – Head, Department of Kashmiri also recited a nazm written by him in protest against the violence inflicted on women as it dwelled on the need for change at a collective level.

The recitation of poetry was followed by a musical tribute to the legendary singer of Kashmir Raj begum who continues to enthrall her listener's years after her death as she did during her lifetime. A mesmerising rendition by Aqeel Nabi of Raj Begum's famed ghazal Mashravthas Jaanani to the accompaniment of guitar inaugurated the proceedings. It set the tone for what proved to be a very musical and sonorous session. The vote of thanks was delivered by Dr Huzaifa Pandit, Assistant Professor English.

Two Week Kabaddi Coaching Camp Organized by Department of Physical Education in collaboration with Midline Academy Mumbai

Department of Physical Education and Sports organized two week Kabaddi Coaching Camp in collaboration with Mid-line coaching academy Mumbai. Worthy principal of the college Dr. Seema Naz, in her inaugural speech welcomed the coach Mr. Aniket Matra from Mumbai. She praised the talent and eagerness of all the participants from all districts of JK to participate with full enthusiasm. 25 athletes from different districts learned great skills and tactics about the game. Head coach who made full use of two weeks and praised the talent of all Kashmiri participants. Students after the end of sessions were very happy that they found such a chance to be a part of this camp. At the end of the coaching camp valedictory ceremony was organized in which all the athletes were awarded with mementoes and participation certificates.

One Day International Conference on 'Recent Advancements and Approach in Islamic Studies Discipline'

A One Day International Conference on 'Recent Advancements and Approach in Islamic Studies Discipline' was organized by the department of Islamic Studies, on 15th march 2022 in blended mode over google meet in the virtual lab. Reputed scholars from all over the globe and the country attended the conference and deliberated upon the new vistas and research approaches that have emerged in contemporary times. They included Professor Hamidullah Marazi, Director Center of Spiritual Studies, IUST, Professor Abdul Rashid Bhat, Professor of Islamic Studies, IUST, Dr. Mohamad Obaidullah founder IBF Net Indonesia and Dr. Afroz Ahmed Bisati, Head, Department of Islamic Studies IUST. The conference was moderated by Dr Iqbal Malik HoD Islamic Studies, and rapporteur duties were performed by Dr Huzaiifa Pandit (Assistant Professor, English). The event commenced with a melodious recitation of Quranic verses by Asmat Jan of BA- II to invoke divine blessings and set the atmosphere for what promised to be a spiritual fest. It was followed by a welcome address delivered by Prof Aijaz Mansoor – HoD Political Science. His address extended a warm welcome to the participants and resource persons for consenting to attend the event. He also dwelt on the rationale of the conference and the research gap it aimed to highlight. Drawing from the Quranic injunction of quest for knowledge and renowned commentaries, the address highlighted the need to counter allegations of intellectual stagnation and dogma to expand the horizon of Islamic studies and explore the dialectics of Islamic scholarship and secular sciences. To that end, the conference aims to expand upon these contours while reinvestigating and regenerating the context of Islamic studies.

Inaugural Session: The inaugural session commenced with the key note address delivered by Prof Hameed Naseem Rafiabadi on ‘Recent trends and advancements in Islamic Social Sciences’. His address started with outlining the genesis of Islamic studies as a formal discipline, and its journey from western academia (where it began as an attempt to understand oriental muslim subjectivities in order to aid colonial project) to east and especially Kashmir. Outlining the hegemony of the western academia in the field, he highlighted that the eastern academia has largely been reactive to the agendas and paradigms set by oriental studies, even as efforts have been undertaken in recent times to redraft the pedagogy and ontological paradigms of the field. Highlighting the divisions in oriental approaches he drew upon its various approaches ranging from sympathetic to outright hostility. Next, Prof. Dr. Obaidullah spoke on the topic “Scope of Fin Tech in Islamic Economic system”. He elaborated on the concept of Fin Tech, and its evolution as a system of investigation. Drawing upon the principles outlined by Sharia, he outlined the scope of blending the approaches of modern economics and artificial intelligence to create an alternative non capitalist financial universe. The inaugural session concluded with a vote of thanks delivered by Dr Parvez Ahmed, HoD Urdu who thanked the experts for their illuminating addresses

First Technical Session: The first technical session comprising of five papers was held next, which was chaired by Dr Altaf Hussain Yattoo. Papers were read by Prof Ab Rashid Bhat, Dr Afroz Ahmed Bisati, Dr Showkat Hussain Dar, Dr Nazir Ahmed Zargar and Mr Ather Shahbaz. The session was begun by Prof Bhat who read a paper on ‘Recent trends and advancements in Islamic Social Sciences’. He outlined the intersections between social sciences and Islamic studies by tracing first the genealogies of social science as a field of academic inquiry and linking it to the Islamic principles of knowledge production like study of Tawheed within blended frameworks. Next, Dr Showkat Hussain Dar, Sr. Assistant Professor spoke on ‘Multidisciplinary views of Islamic Education.’ He started by dwelling on the trend of ‘tawasul ‘tarfayn and provided an inventory on various thematic approaches to Islamic studies like Islamic Social Sciences with concurrent themes like Islamic Economics and Islamic Stylistics. He delved into the differing approaches and their impact on the knowledge production in the Islamic studies world. The final presentation of the session was delivered by Mr Ather Shehbaz Doctoral scholar at IUST who spoke on 'Islamic Finance: An emerging academic discipline'. He drew on the two sectors of the discipline: 1) corporate sector based on principles of profit and loss 2) The Academic sector that seeks to theorise and lay out the ground for transactions in the corporate sector A brief question and answer session followed in which the paper presenters answered the questions raised by the audience.

Technical Session 2: The second technical session comprised of four papers which dwelled on the diverse aspects of the theme deliberated upon. The session was chaired by Dr. Abida Qounser, Assistant Professor GDC Sopore. The session commenced with a paper by Dr. Rabia Siddiqui who deliberated on 'Anthropology and Islam: recent Developments.' The presentation focused on the evolution of the field which is of quite recent origins and orients the audience towards an anthropological framework of Islamic studies. Her presentation commenced with a brief exploration of the basics of anthropology and its field of study as rooted in human experience and life. The next paper was read by Dr. Rabia Siddiqi, who spoke on 'Recent inclusions in feminism and a Muslim response'. The paper dealt with an issue that has generated much debate in recent times especially with the evolution of Islamic Feminism. The paper commenced with an exploration of the evolution of feminism as a political movement as a reaction to scripturally and socially sanctioned disparity of power between men and women. Next Javeed Ahmed Malik, spoke on 'Philanthropy in Sirah Literature: A Contemporary relevance' which highlighted the initiatives of Prophet (PBUH) regarding philanthropy, the concept of philanthropy, types of philanthropy and the need to mandate it in light of scripture and tradition. A question-and-answer session followed in which the experts addressed the questions and queries raised by the audience.

Valedictory Ceremony: The ceremony started with a brief report of the conference delivered by Prof Iqbal Malik, Convenor of the Conference. The Valedictory address that followed was delivered by the Principal and Patron of the conference: Dr Seema Naz. She outlined the importance of endeavours like research conferences to not only outline the progress of knowledge but also build capacities in scholars and students by orienting them towards latest advances in research. She reiterated that the implementation of NEP demands that research and pedagogy be interlinked more intricately, and by organising the conference, the college is taking a step in this direction. She offered her congratulations to the department for conceptualising the conference with such a galaxy of luminaries. Certificates were then distributed among the participants and the session ended on a formal note of thanks delivered by Prof Hilal Ahmad Bakshi (HoD Physics).

Community outreach Program conducted at Govt Boys Middle School, Shar-i-Shali

Inauguration of Library Automation

Library automation in broader context means integration of Information and Communication Technologies (ICT), Barcoding/ RFID, computers, networking technologies and use of library software for replacing manual system in the library. The automation eases efforts in cataloguing, acquisition, circulation management, database management, member management, fine calculation, OPAC etc. On 25th March 2022 at 11:30 am Mr. Ashaq Hussain

Wafaye, Librarian of the college along with Prof. Alam Ara Shah H.O.D Sociology, Prof. Mohammad Iqbal Malik H.O.D Islamic Studies, Prof. Aaliya Bashir H.O.D English, Mr. Mohammad Umran M/S Benchmark Automation, Mr. Pir Mehraj Din Baba Library Asst., Mr. Shafat Ahmad Pamboo, Ms Rozy Jan, Mr. Arif and good number of college students warmly received and escorted worthy Principal for the inauguration of library automation at central library. Esteemed Principal formally launched library automation by cutting ribbon at 11:45 am in presence of senior most faculty members of the college Prof. Hilal Ahmad Bakshi, Prof G. N. Joo, Prof. Mohammad Tahir Khan. Mr. Mohammad Umran from M/S Benchmark Automation, Srinagar explained all the peculiarities and features of SOUL 3.0 library software and first book was issued by revered Principal to a student on software by using barcode scanner through scanning barcode on books and Member barcode cards. Later few more books were issued to students using barcode technology by faculty members and library staff to understand the wonders of SOUL 3.0. Thereafter, Principal madam was requested to write words of wisdom on "Visitor Register" she penned down some remarks. After that Librarian presented a token of endearment in the form of a book to the Principal madam. Principal madam issued some barcode library cards to a few students and to launch library automation formally. Mr. Ashaq Hussain Wafaye elaborated in detail the progress report made during the year like books/ references/ best seller books purchased to the tune of 16 lacs during the year, installation of servokon 15 kva, establishment of library for Music, organization of resources, classification, ICT gadgets, sections of library particularly reference sections, best seller books and installation of computer systems in various sections of central library, barcode printer, high end server, browsing centre, OPAC, student helpdesk in the first floor etc. Principal madam deliberated on achievements made in the library since the past two years despite covid-19 crises which include face-lifting, purchase of quality books with number of books raised to 13000 plus, empanelment with book suppliers, library automation, browsing centre, installation of IFPD, high end server, 60 KV diesel Genset, Hot/ cold AC, BSNL lease line for internet, library networking, reprographic machine, furniture, book storage items, etc in short she emphasized on how library modernization and upgradation has been accomplished despite COVID-19. At the same time she recommended maximum usage of library and its resources and suggested for library period. Librarian briefed about library automation, SOUL 2.0 to SOUL 3.0 upgradation, data migration, barcode cards, SOUL WEB OPAC etc. Finally, Prof. Hilal Ahmad Bakshi H.O.D Physics & Convener Advisory expressed vote of thanks to the Principal madam and librarian and all the stakeholders and lauded the efforts in the modernization of college library.

IQAC organizes Departmental Presentation

The Department of Education presented their department on 28th March, 2022 as a quality initiative under the aegis of IQAC in order to undergo self-appraisal ahead of the visit of the NAAC Peer team. The department was represented by Prof Shah Lateef, HoD, Department of Education who apprised the audience about the composition, mandate and activities of the department. All the faculty of various subjects attended the presentation. Dr Shabir Hussain Lone, Co-coordinator IQAC moderated the session while Dr Huzaifa Pandit executed the rapporteur duties..

One Day Trekking for Girl Students Organized by Women Development Cell in collaboration with the Department of Physical Education

The College Women Development Cell (WDC) in collaboration with the Department of Physical Education organized 'One Day Trekking Trip' to Pahalgam for girl students on 30th of March, 2022. The trip commenced from the college campus at 8:30 am and a total of 35 students along with 05 NSS Volunteers, two (02) faculty members (Mr. Zafar Manzoor, Physical Director; Prof. Aaliya Bashir, Co-convener Women Development Cell. The college trekking group reached Pahalgam at 11:00 am and the group leader Mr. Zafar Manzoor, led them on the first trail of trek. All the students were enthusiastic and they followed their group leader through the meandering trail of steep and winding tracks. Throughout the day, all the students sauntered through the woods and rejuvenated themselves by rebuilding their relationship with nature. It not only helped them reconnect with their innerselves but also develop endurance and confidence within themselves.

Five Day Training Program on Post Cocoon Technology

Sericulture is an agro-based industry, involving rearing of silkworms for the production of raw silk being the yarn obtained out of cocoons, spun by certain species of insects. Sericulture is the skill development subject prescribed by University of Kashmir on the curriculum of 5th and 6th semesters at UG level. It is with this intention that Department of Zoology GDC Pampore attended the 5 Days training programme on Post Cocoon Technology (PCT) at Central Sericulture Research and training Institute, Pampore (CSRTI). The training programme imparted students, immense theoretical and Practical scientific knowledge. The program was initiated by Director CSRTI. Dr. Sardar Sing and briefed overview of sericulture industry in India. The session continued by Dr. Gulab Khan Scientist-C delivered lecture on Mulberry cultivation techniques- propagation and plantation cultivation techniques. Dr Pawan Sani Scientist-C demonstrated the practical on Propagation and painting cultivation techniques. Lecture on importance of disinfection and hygiene in silkworm rearing was delivered by Dr. Bharat Kumar, on same topic, Fayaz Ahmad Bhat Senior Technical Officer has shown it practically. On the second day Dr. Shiv Kumar, Scientist-C delivered lecture on silkworm rearing (early and late rearing). Dr. Rajesh Kumar Scientist-C, delivered lecture on Management of pests and disease in Mulberry and silkworm rearing and their management practices. Dy. Director Sericulture Jammu & Kashmir UT, Gh. Nabi Mir, delivered lecturer on procurement of cocoons and sorting techniques. Senior Technical Assistant Mohd. Altaf Koul showed the practical in the rearing section on cocoon drying and store management techniques. Students visited Mulberry farm section to expose different species of Mulberry trees which are cultivated by the CSRTI, Pampore. On 3rd day Sri. Mohd. Altaf Koul delivered on introduction to reeling and brushing. Mohd Aafan Zafan resource person from outside institute presented the theoretical introduction about weaving of silkworm. Senior Technical Assistant Mohd. Altaf Koul demonstrated to students in the reeling laboratory on reeling process on Cocoons of silkworm. On the 4th day Sri. Mohd. Altaf Koul delivered lecture as well as practical in the laboratory on identification of different types of yarns/silk. He also showed theoretically and practically silk testing and its importance. On the 5th day Sri. S Hamid Khan, Scientist-C (Assistant Director) delivered lecture on introduction to silk carpet weaving/ different types of carpet designs in the Kashmir valley. He also delivered lecture on silk market scheme and its importance. The students have also visited the Central Sericulture Research and Training Institute Library where they have seen different Journals of Sericulture of both national and international repute as well as books on Sericulture.

Field trip of Biological students to ICAR- Centre Institute of Temperate Horticulture (CITH), Old Air Field, Rangreth Srinagar

As an initiative to boost the moral and to inculcate scientific temper among

B.Sc students, The department of science arranged a field trip of 2nd and 3rd semester students to Centre Institute of Temperate Horticulture (CITH), Rangorth Srinagar on 26/03/2022. 36 students of Science stream along with, Prof. Hilal Ahmad Bakshi, Dean Sciences, Prof. Gh. Nabi Joo, Department of Botany and Dr. Adil Bashir Shah, Department of Zoology accompanied the students. Dr. O.C. Sharma briefly introduced about various Horticultural Research activities going in the Institute. After a thorough discussion in the conference Hall of Institute with students, all the students along with Director of Institute Dr. O.C. Sharma and other two senior scientists Dr. Mohd Abass and Dr. Javaid Iqbal moved towards the lush green fields of CITH, Srinagar. Director Dr. O.C. Sharma briefed the students about the latest Research developments in the Horticulture sector that include different varieties of Walnut, Apricot, Chestnut, Cherry and Apple in the hybrid forms. High density plantation method to get greatest production and much more profit as the land day by day is shrinking due to excessive use of commercialization of land for monetary benefits. Moving to the vegetable side Dr. O.P. Sharma showed a large variety of vegetables which include cabbage, peas, Brinjal, tomato and other latest varieties in hybrid mode. Dooth Ganga water collected in a 7x105 lakh litres capacity reservoir and then use in the field which is spread about 700 kanals of land in the form of drift irrigation system. Later students were taken to an array of green house and polyhouse chambers by two senior scientists briefed our students about various technologies adopted by this centre to increase yield of different crops and keeping in view the climatic conditions (Temperate climate) of Kashmir Valley. Lastly after visiting different laboratories, molecular biology laboratory, entomology laboratory, Biotechnology laboratory were different scientists and senior technical officers have shown utilization of different instruments. The students were highly satisfied as they got acquainted with different ongoing latest development both in Horticulture as well as Agriculture sector.

Institutional Best Practices

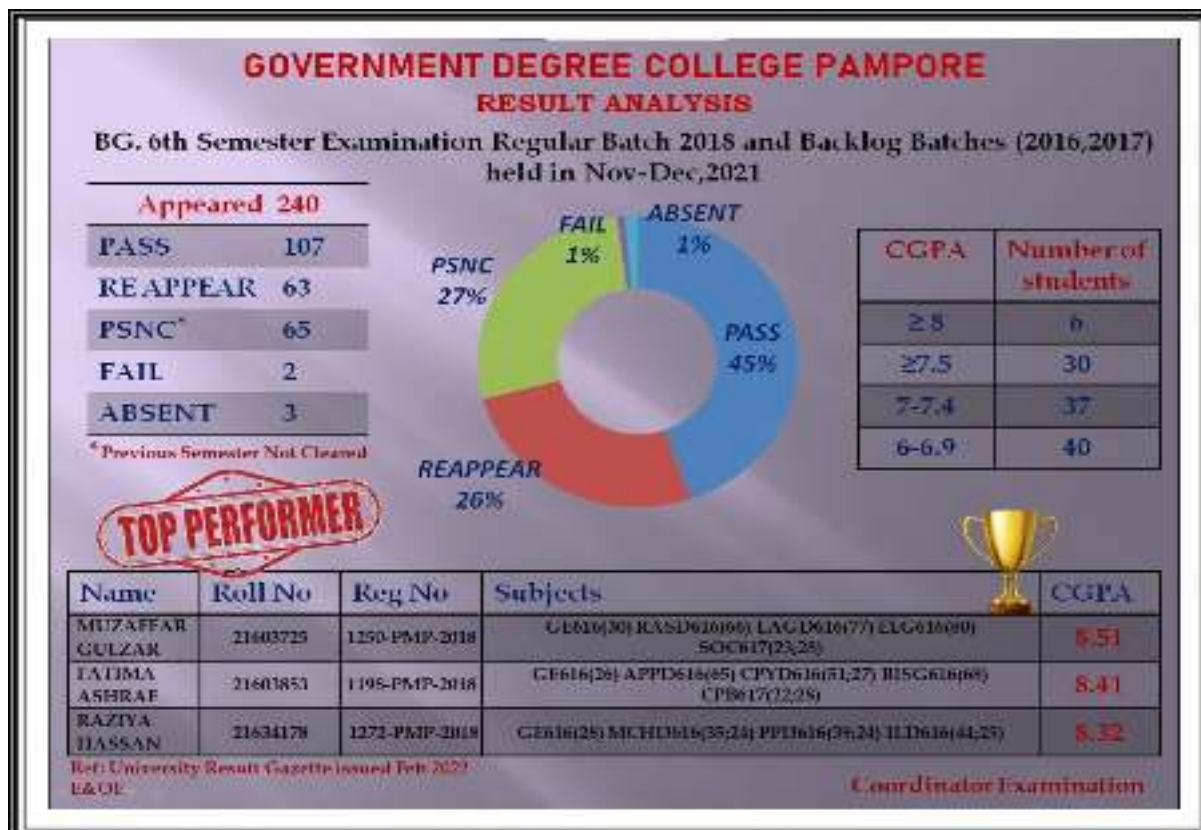

Few of the best practices being adopted at the institutional level include:

1. Organizing seminars on mental health, coping stress amid COVID-19 and psycho-social wellbeing for students through Psychological Counselling Cell.
2. Organizing seminars, lectures under Habba-Khatoon cell to promote the local poets and poetess
3. Providing Scholarships, Financial Aid and Freeships to deserving students
4. Counselling, Guiding and Mentoring of Students through Career Counselling and Guidance Cell.
5. Organizing training programs, field trips, subject tours to promote experiential learning
6. Promoting Skill Development by organizing various programs, training sessions, workshops, invited talks etc.
7. Promoting Entrepreneurship by organizing awareness sessions under Innovation, Incubation and Entrepreneurship Development Cell
8. Organizing programs, lectures, training and awareness sessions on cross cutting issues like gender inequality, environmental and other social issues
9. Organizing activities and programs promoting National Integration and celebration of various days of National importance.
10. Regular collection of feedback from all stakeholders, its analysis followed by action.
11. Floral welcome to students on first day of college reopening.
12. Strengthening the Mentor-Mentee relationship.
13. Organizing seminars, webinars, and community extension, outreach programs frequently.
14. Creating awareness about the needs of especially abled children
15. Organizing "Meet the faculty" orientation programmes for newcomers.
16. Organizing Pre-admission Counselling Mela.
17. Celebrating Saffron Day to promote this local spice.
18. Connecting with Parents and Alumni through frequent Parent-teacher and Alumni meets
19. Celebrating Teachers Day to honour the proud teachers.
20. Working on Green Campus Initiative.
21. Adoption of Local Wetlands to preserve their serene flora and fauna by creating awareness sessions and cleanliness drives in these wetlands.
22. Mitigating disasters by organizing Disaster Preparedness programs.

گورنمنٹ ڈگری کالج پانپور کا ترانہ شہر زعفران سے علم کا کارواں اٹھا

تحریر: ڈاکٹر جوہر □ قنوسی

دلوں میں عزم نو لیے، بزار حوصلے لیے
کتھن ہو راستہ اگر، بڑھیں گے ولولے لیے
علم اٹھانے باتہ میں، جلو میں قافلے لیے
بلند منزلیں لیے، نیا افق نشاں اٹھا
شہر زعفران سے علم کا کارواں اٹھا

ہمارے دل میں اک ذرا خوف نہ براس ہو
خیال رنج و غم نہ ہو، نہ فکر و حزن و یاس ہو
ہمارے ہی وجود سے اندھیرا پاش پاش ہو
بن کے علم و آگہی کا ایک کارواں اٹھا
شہر زعفران سے علم کا کارواں اٹھا

نگر نگر، چمن چمن، روش روش اے دوستو!
دیے جلاتے جانیں ہم، تھکن کا نام بھی نہ لو
تاج آگہی کے ہمیں جانشین ہیں دوستو
اپنی ہمتیں بلند، حوصلہ جواں اٹھا
شہر زعفران سے علم کا کارواں اٹھا

خواجہ مسعود □ نے سکھائی شریعت یہاں
شوق باب □ نے دیا درس طریقت یہاں
لہ □ نے بیان کیے رموز معرفت یہاں
نغمہ بانے شوق سے جبہ □ کے اک فغان اٹھا
شہر زعفران سے علم کا کارواں اٹھا

جن کے فیض سے رواں بہ نور کی ہیں نذیباں
جن کی راہ چل رہی ہیں بستوں کی ہستیاں
جن کے مرتبے کی قسم کھاتی ہیں بلندیاں
ان کی دانش و بکر کا پھر سے کارواں اٹھا
شہر زعفران سے علم کا کارواں اٹھا

قسم ہے زعفران اور شاخ زعفران کی
ہمارے ولولوں کو ہے تلاش آسمان کی
کمندیں ڈالنے کو ہیں ستاروں پہ، یہ تہاں لی
عزم ہیں پختہ ہم لیے، اب چھوٹے آسمان کا
شہر زعفران سے علم کا کارواں اٹھا

گگن جو اس چمن کے ہیں یوں ہی شانماں رہیں
بحر زندگی میں بھی ہم ہی بانیاں رہیں
قافلہ شوق کے ذوق جاوداں رہیں
علم کے ہی سراز سے سوز کا سماں اٹھا
شہر زعفران سے علم کا کارواں اٹھا
